Enabling educational use of museum multimedia

AMICO Members Meeting

This fourth annual meeting of the AMICO Members represents a great milestone in the evolution of the Art Museum Image Consortium.

The AMICO Library officially launched almost a year ago and now over 700,000 undergraduates in over 100 schools in the U.S. and Canada can use Members' content in exciting new educational ways.

We still have some questions to answer:

HOW do we continue to develop membership so that the Library will be even more rich and diverse?

HOW do we meet the needs of our educational users and our specific institutional needs?

HOW do we integrate AMICO activities into our regular organizational operations?

In both full sessions and Committee Breakouts, we'll plan our program for the coming year, and design strategies to ensure the continued growth and vigor of both the Consortium and the Library.
